Dear 1987 DITFOR Conference Attendee:

You have been selected to receive this early announcement and reservation request for the upcoming 1988 Annual Intelligence Symposium.

As indicated on the enclosed program description, this year's DIA sponsored Symposium: "Intelligence and the Commander", will offer an exciting forum in which government speakers will discuss the 1990's C3I requirements and potential technological advances to increase the effectiveness of the Commander.

Due to the anticipated demand for the limited seating, select members are being offered this advanced opportunity to request reservations. You are invited to submit the attached reservation request by 15 July 1988. As the final demand for seats is determined, reservations will be allocated and you will be notified accordingly.

If your firm is a Sustaining Member of AFCEA, as listed in SIGNAL, January 1988, you are requested to advise your Corporate Point of Contact of your interest in attending this symposium so as to consolidate reservations.

Sincerely,

Kirby Lamar

"INTELLIGENCE AND THE COMMANDER:
Requirements, Productivity and Technology in the 1990's"

AFCEA's Annual Intelligence Symposium
Sponsored by the Defense Intelligence Agency
November 1-2, 1988 -- DIAC, Bolling AFB

Symposium Agenda

Symposium sessions, to be held at the SECRET (NOFORN) level, will address requirements and approaches for integrated command, control, communications and intelligence (C3I) support to various levels of command. The speakers will be the leaders and drivers in government and industry of this important national level topic. The Symposium will discuss:

- The realities and dynamics of the commander's intelligence requirements
- The inter-reliance of intelligence and C3 in the command environment
- The need and prospects for improved operational efficiency through procedural, program management and technology improvements and productivity, and
- The new technologies of significance in meeting the requirements of the 1990's.

INVITATION FOR SYMPOSIUM EXHIBITS

To complement this year's Symposium, we have been fortunate in obtaining permission from the Defense Intelligence Agency (DIA) to have a few exhibits on display within the Defense Intelligence Analysis Center (DIAC) complex. This will allow both attendees and personnel assigned to DIA the opportunity to see some of the latest associated technologies.

We are soliciting both government and industry interest in providing exhibits. If your organization is interested in participating in this effort, please contact Jack Pozza, at (703) 631-6238 for further information.

Because of the limited number of exhibits that can be accommodated in the DIAC, requests will be handled on a "first in, first serve" basis.
